

MY 2ND CHANCE: - FROM "SICK NOTE"
TO "FIT NOTE"

Abhijeet Yadav

6 years of work experience, I was still gathering, with the required knowledge and skills to sail in the Logistic Industry. I was working with an established logistics firm in the Documentation Department. Life has its own way of teaching us the importance of disciplined living. The outcome was disheartening, I was diagnosed with typhoid and multiple clots in the brain.

Hospitalized for a month, doctors advised a further one-month rest. Management was informed and they agreed too. The fear of losing my job forced me to rejoin soon, but life had another shock waiting for me. I was dejected to know someone was already in my position and I could join once that person leaves.

Financial conditions stressed me, but I took a big decision to regain my health and recover completely. A year rest brought me back to hunt for jobs. Now, my long sick leave was the obstacle in getting my 2nd chance, as the Corporates feared I wasn't fit enough. The gap had shaken my financial, emotional and confidence level.

After 5 months of struggle, I got a job interview call at Cargosol. With 3 rounds of interview, I was selected as a Documentation Executive. Cargosol trusted and believed in me. The work culture is open, warm and flexible. Each one is accountable and empowered with responsibilities. Here "Employees are Valued".

Expressing my Gratitude towards my colleagues and Manager who helped me in blending with the company so smoothly. Today, I am living a more disciplined life.
