Vinod Dubey

A child of around 6 was playing with a handful of stones amidst heavy traffic on Mumbai's western express highway. Vehicles moved swiftly, dodging the child's safety.

Despite being on official duty, one man was unable to ignore this sight. He stopped his car, switched on the parking lights and approached the child with a friendly smile. Upon inquiring about the child's family, he was led to the child's house which was just 150 meters from the highway.

The door was wide open and the mother was fast asleep. Upon being woken up and told about what had transpired, she began to scold the child. The man explained that while the child's actions were dangerous, he was simply acting his age. As the parent, it was she who had to be more responsible.

Recently, the Ministry of Road Transport and Highway stated that Maharashtra is at the 2nd spot for road fatalities. It was Mr. Vinod - a non-matriculate who took time out to avoid an unfortunate incident with his alert actions. Vinod Dubey has been employed as a driver at Cargosol for the last 10 years. We appreciate him for showing great responsibility and compassion.
